5. Krakow Dance Festival Immersion

3 – 9 August 2025

Nowa Huta Cultural Centre (NCK), al. Jana Pawła II 232

On the stages of the NCK and in Łąki Nowohuckie (meadows of Nowa Huta), artists from six European countries will present the most interesting phenomena in contemporary choreography brought together under the common theme of Immersion. It is therefore worth immersing yourself in this space of movement and gesture, especially as most of the performances will be shown in Poland for the first time. In the German-Swedish production Unearth, the audience will surrender to blissful introspection together with the dancers, and they will decide for themselves how long they want to watch the performance. The Irish "Dances Like a Bomb" explores the phenomena of youth and ageing, while the Greek show "Borborygmi" surprisingly explores the beneficial power of noise as a source of joy, solidarity and a sense of community. With the Czech performance Microworlds, aimed primarily at families with children 4+, we will discover that the earth is full of microcosms. The Polish scene will be represented by the "for 38 trillion voices plus one" Inner Monologue about illness and how man depends on bacteria, as well as Love Letter, a performance for one viewer revolving around the themes of love, desire and imagination, and the open-air Snail's Footprint combined with the premiere of the film.

The festival programme will be rounded off with movement, writing and creative workshops for seniors, a photography exhibition and a silent disco to end the whole event.

Drowning Pool, Liliac, Serpents in Hype Park

4 August 2025, at 7.30 pm

Hype Park, ul. Kamienna 12

Drowning Pool is coming to Poland! The leading representative of the nu metal scene will play two concerts in our country: 3 August in Warsaw's Proxima and 4 August in Krakow's Hype Park. The audience will be warmed up by heavy metal Liliac and representatives of the Polish core scene – Serpents.

Drowning Pool – a name etched in the pages of modern rock history – returns to the stage with fierce energy and uncompromising force. Their distinctive sound, synonymous with raw power and a ruthless approach, is unmistakable from any other band.

Liliac is an American hard rock and heavy metal band consisting of five siblings: Melody, Samuel, Abigail, Ethan and Justin Cristea. Their music combines the classic sound of the 70s and 80s with modern energy and a fresh approach.

Szczecin-based Serpents are a modern fusion of metalcore with elements of electronic music.

Musica Divina 2025: ERO CRAS

5 – 9 August 2025

Carmelite Church Na Piasku, ul. Karmelicka 19

Advent in August? Yes – and right in the heart of Krakow. This year's Musica Divina festival will be a story of hope and expectation. This is all to remind us that music – like true liturgy – transcends our here and now.

The motto of this year's festival: ERO CRAS ("I will come tomorrow") refers to the Advent Great "O" Antiphons and leads us towards one of the most powerful liturgical periods in terms of meaning. Inspired by the tradition of the Wawel Rorantists, the organisers boldly draw on this tradition.

It is a brave experiment, but not without foundation. For we have an extraordinary Advent site in Krakow, and right in the heart of the city: one of the most beautiful chapels in Wawel Cathedral, founded by King Sigismund I. Not only is it a pearl of Renaissance architecture, but for centuries it was also a place of everyday musical life thanks to the exceptionally intensive activities of the Rorantist Ensemble. Their duties included the daily singing at the Rorate Mass and at major church feasts.

Associated with the lessons from the beginning, Krakow's Loch Camelot Theatre supports and assists the singing by providing the correct key and melody line. The lesson will be conducted by Waldemar Domański, the initiator of the event and director of the Library of Polish Songs.

26th Krakow Opera Summer Festival

8 August 2025, at 8.00 pm

The Royal Castle in Niepołomice

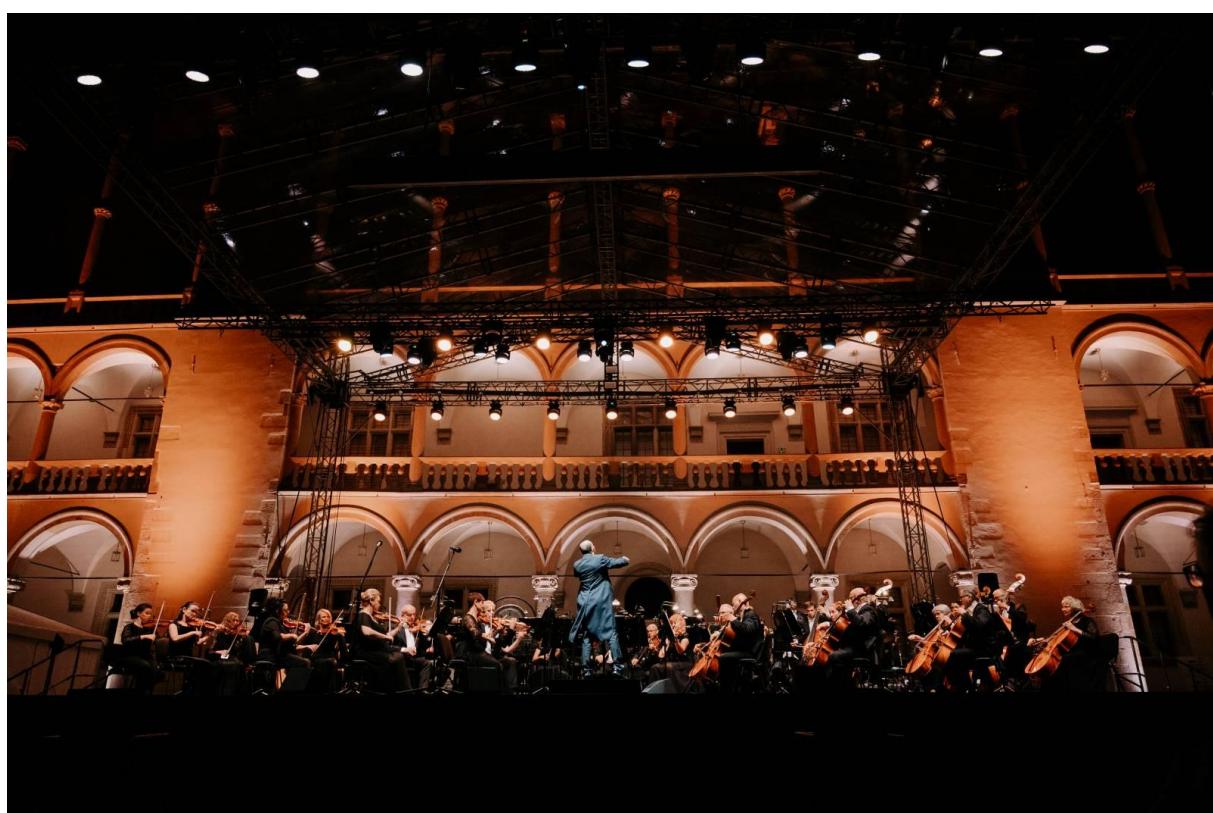

Opera goes outdoors – this is the festival's tagline, with which the Lubicz Street stage welcomes the arrival of summer. The culmination of its 26th edition will be performances in the Wawel arcade courtyard, which will see as many as three opera heroines strolling around the castle hill: Tosca, Aida and – naturally! – Queen Bona Sforza, the heroine of one of the Krakow Opera's latest productions, a work by Zygmunt Krauze to a libretto by Vincenzo de Vivo, which debuted on stage last November. Amidst the greenery will be a concert performed as part of the Krakow Opera's 70th anniversary Operetta in the Garden, or Where Love Lives. The most beloved melodies from operettas and musicals (including Revenge of the Bat, The Merry Widow, The Czardas Princess, My Fair Lady and Fiddler on the Roof) will be presented on stage in the Botanical Garden by guests including: Krystyna Tyburowska, Bożena Zawiślak-Dolny and Andrzej Biegun, as well as soloists, the OK Choir, Orchestra and Ballet.

In July and August, opera performances will take place in the most beautiful corners of Małopolska, including the castles in Nowy Wiśnicz and Niepołomice and Krynica Zdrój.

Colourful stalls filled with handicrafts from various regions of Poland and Europe and a stage under the Town Hall tower for three weeks resounding with performances by visitors from different parts of the continent, including Poland, Slovakia, Hungary, Ukraine, the Czech Republic, Estonia, Bulgaria, Lithuania and Latvia – the event on the Main Market Square, which is approaching its 50th anniversary, is not slowing down. Chełmoński

8 August - 30 November 2025

National Museum in Krakow, Main Building, al. 3 Maja 1

The Krakow exhibition crowns a monumental series of three monographic exhibitions of Józef Chełmoński (1849-1914). The two previous stagings took place at the National Museum in Warsaw and the National Museum in Poznań. The exhibition includes a wide selection of oil paintings as well as watercolours and drawing works from many private collections and from museum collections, both national and international. The extraordinary talent of the creator of Gossamer and the sensual beauty of his works earned him the status of a national artist, one of the most outstanding representatives of Polish realism.

Chełmoński's works are worth admiring as outstanding examples of 19th-century realism and delight viewers with their painterly development. This work also opens up the contemporary viewer to a love of nature with all the richness of the world of fauna and flora, reminding us of the need to care for the condition of nature and the necessity of coexisting harmoniously with it.

8th BNP Paribas Green Film Festival

11-17 August 2025

Vistula Boulevards

More than 50 films with an environmental theme – features and documentaries, long and short films – will compete at the BNP Paribas Green Film Festival. However, it is not the race for prizes that is most important here, but the popularisation of the environmental message among the widest possible audience.

This year, screens in several outdoor areas (on Czerwieński Boulevard, in front of the Krakow Gallery and on the Echo City Stage at ul. Kapelanka 56) will show, among others, Documerica (dir. Pierre-François Didek) on the state of the environment in the USA in the 1970s. The Bloody Trophy (dir. Ewa Galica) about a journalistic investigation into the illegal trade in rhino horns that leads to Poland, Black Butterflies (dir. David Baute) about three women from different parts of the world forced to migrate as a result of climate change, or Even If the Flood After Us about a brilliant physicist travelling back in time to prevent a thermonuclear reactor disaster. Another portion of films awaits at out-of-competition screenings, including a special children's zone. The reception of the individual productions will be deepened by discussions with experts in a friendly scientific stand-up format. As every year, the organisers will ensure that all events are prepared in a sustainable and socially responsible manner.

It consists of a thematic tour entitled "The Crown and the Monks, the Benedictines and Power" and a family workshop entitled "At the Origins of Poland". The Wawel Cathedral Museum will present unique parchment documents issued by Casimir the Jagiellonian and Sigismund the Old. Gojira at Tauron Arena Krakow

More information about the events is available at: <https://turystykakrakow.pl/>

19 August 2025, at 7.00 pm

Tauron Arena, ul. Lema 7

Gojira, the French masters of modern metal, are returning to Poland for one concert. They will perform on 19 August 2025 at Krakow's Tauron Arena.

This band needs no introduction to anyone ... Really: to anyone. After Gojira's phenomenal performance at the opening ceremony of the Paris Olympics, it is not only metal fans who know them. The whole world was stunned to hear and see them perform a brutal and heavy version of "Ah! Ça ira!".

We were not surprised, because we know very well what an excellent band this is. We know this thanks to the Frenchmen's sensational concert at Mystic Festival 2023 and thanks to the show they gave a few months earlier in Gliwice. We know this thanks to numerous previous visits to Poland – from the first ones, in tiny clubs, to the big stage of the Pol'And'Rock Festival. No matter where they performed and under what circumstances, they were always the kind of concerts that you remember for a lifetime.

Gojira is currently working on the follow-up to the critically and fan-acclaimed 2021 album Fortitude, promising something both more ambitious and heavier. "It's meant to be a step up and forward, so we're putting all our love and energy into this record," Joe Duplantier, the quartet's vocalist and guitarist, said recently.

Whether they are already coming with new material or as part of a break in a recording session – we will give them the welcome they deserve.

Kogut w rosole (Cock in the Broth)

23 August 2025, at 16.00

Kijów Cinema, al. Krasińskiego 34

The production is a theatrical version of the British world cinema hit 'The Full Monty' directed by Peter Cattaneo with the Polish film title: "Goło i wesoło". At the centre of the event are a couple of men – friends who are laid-off steelworkers. How do you get out of the trap of living on welfare benefits? How do you get the cash you chronically lack for your family, children, yourself? A brilliant idea for a seemingly easy way to make money is to do a "Show," a "Striptease Show!" It turns out that it will take a lot more than what the unemployed steelworkers imagined to realise this idea ... The realisation of this idea costs the characters a great deal, and gives the audience even more comedic laugh ... Can they manage? Will they win their battle to make money, but also to preserve their own dignity? Will they succeed? Many thousands of people in Poland have already cheered on the heroes of "Cock in the Broth" and kept their fingers crossed for them. Join them, experience the story with them and maybe you'll be happy to keep your fingers crossed for them too! The characters in the "Cock in the Broth" have existential problems that are familiar to any viewer, which is probably why this viewer has so many reasons to laugh uncontrollably.

Accessible cinema in Wesoła

30 August 2025, at 8.30 pm

The Design Pharmacy, ul. Kopernika 19a

In the summer, the meadow on Wesoła will be transformed into a huge cinema hall. Surrounded by greenery in the very centre of Krakow, three films will be screened: the painterly tale of Vincent van Gogh, a dramatic story of love in post-war Europe and an uncompromising slice of contemporary Polish reality. The screenings will be preceded by lectures, and the whole event will be prepared with accessibility for all viewers in mind – without barriers.

At the last film event at Wesoła on 30 August, we will see Wojciech Smarzowski's Kler, a film that has moved public opinion and sparked a wide debate about the institution of the Catholic Church in Poland. Three clergymen, who share a common past, struggle with their own weaknesses, internal conflicts and systemic abuses. The director does not spare the viewer from difficult questions and does not give simple answers – this is a film that forces you to think. Prior to the screening, Dagmara Romanowska will give a talk in which she will discuss the social issues raised in the film, the way in which Smarzowski presents them and the reactions the production provoked in Poland and abroad.
